Artifact is a card type. They are permanents which can only be played during your main phase (unless it's an Artifact Creature and has Flash). They represent physical items of power that any wizard can employ. This also means that artifacts can easily be broken if made too powerful. Prime examples of this would be the Power Nine (most of which are artifacts), Voltaic Key, and affinity ...

Legendary is a card supertype. Any permanent (artifact, creature, enchantment, planeswalker, and land) with the legendary supertype is bound by the "legend rule," which prevents multiple copies of the card from existing on the battlefield under the same player's control. Legendary may also appear as a supertype on non-permanent cards (instants and sorceries). The rules for these are different ...
